

followed, and turned quickly and got away from the scene.

Continuing, Appo told how he had sought to purchase the goods of a Chinese merchant who had been trading for years. The merchant absolutely refused to sell him anything, as did all other Chinese merchants in the quarter. They tacitly admitted that the police had placed a bar upon Appo in the district. In fact, one of the men who had been trading for years in the street, the first time he saw him buying anything in the district.

In addition, the cheerful efforts which men were apparently making to make it impossible for Appo to keep him active and eternally upon his guard.

PREPARING THE CHARGES.

Ward Men, It Is Said, Will Be the First on Trial.

Supt. Byrnes is going to work in a very leisurely way to carry out the instructions of the Police Commissioners embodied in his resolution they passed last Friday.

No witnesses have yet been summoned, or even thought of, as far as could be gathered from the Superintendent this morning, and probably no active move will be made until some definite programme for the investigation of the accused captives and officers has been decided upon.

"You must not forget," said the Superintendent this morning, "that there is a great mass of testimony to be examined before charges can be framed."

It cannot be denied that Supt. Byrnes looked worried, and well he might be with the disagreeable work that the Commissioners have laid out for him. It would not be surprising if he went out in a half-hearted sort of way, considering how little would be accomplished should the prosecution be carried out in strict accordance with the letter of the resolution.

Those who have in charge the affairs of the Lexow Committee say that Supt. Byrnes had only been to the Police Department as far as bringing definite charges against the officers and men, and as to individuals connected with the Department was covered.

If the Police Commissioners try the accused policemen during the summer in connection with the Lexow Committee, and many others in addition, have to be tried all over again on new charges after Mr. Gifford goes through with them in the fall.

It has been argued that the Committee should have information when the adjournment was taken, but that a mass of testimony is still waiting to be examined, and that it is of even greater importance than any which has yet been given.

As to his plans, however, Supt. Byrnes was dumb as an oyster this morning, when it might be expected that charges against any one of the accused officials would be formulated and the prosecution would be commenced.

It was stated yesterday that Capt. Stebbins was to be brought to the bar at Police Headquarters, but the Superintendent would not confirm this. It is understood, however, that in his private office the charges are already being prepared against the officers of the world men implicated in the blackmailer business brought out before the Lexow Committee by its witnesses, and that as soon as they can be submitted to the Police Board the accused men will be brought up for trial.

An interesting question has arisen as to whether the Lexow Committee will be represented and proceeding held before the Police Commissioners, when it is probable that many of the witnesses who are to be called before the Committee will be summoned when the officers they accuse are placed on trial.

The lawyers have not yet definitely settled the question as to whether they will sue in a civil court, but it seems to be the general opinion that some members of the committee will watch the cases as they go on, if they do so, and look out for any evidence which might be of use to them in a civil suit.

It is not expected, however, that the Committee's counsel will be present in any official capacity, or make any demand for recognition.

Just at present it is extremely uncertain what charges will be brought against the high crimes and misdemeanors of their subordinates will take, and everything is in a state of confusion which matters take after the ball has been fairly started.

Mr. Gifford is expected to appear at his office early this morning and it was said that he had been out of town resting on Sunday. One of the officers at his office was Louis Munzinger, the Secretary of the Lexow Committee, Police Commissioner John S. Sherrill, and the other members of the committee of the Thirtieth Assembly District.

He wore a furious look and told Mr. Gifford's assistant that he had come to see if he could not get the books and papers of the Lexow Committee, which were turned over to the Committee two or three weeks ago for inspection.

He was much out of humor when he was informed that the Committee had not yet completed the examination, and that he would have to wait a little while longer.

It is reported that this is the worst summer on record in the case of Chow-chow ticks.

Between the heat, ticks and the Lexow Committee, the Tammany clubs are having a mighty task to dispose of politicians at the present time.

There is serious talk of cutting prices down to the bone, or of giving up the whole thing, and the result of it will be a mighty task to dispose of politicians at the present time.

Supt. Byrnes was asked this morning if he had anything to say with regard to the charges against the officers of the Lexow Committee, which were turned over to the Committee two or three weeks ago for inspection.

He was much out of humor when he was informed that the Committee had not yet completed the examination, and that he would have to wait a little while longer.

It is reported that this is the worst summer on record in the case of Chow-chow ticks.

Between the heat, ticks and the Lexow Committee, the Tammany clubs are having a mighty task to dispose of politicians at the present time.

There is serious talk of cutting prices down to the bone, or of giving up the whole thing, and the result of it will be a mighty task to dispose of politicians at the present time.

Supt. Byrnes was asked this morning if he had anything to say with regard to the charges against the officers of the Lexow Committee, which were turned over to the Committee two or three weeks ago for inspection.

He was much out of humor when he was informed that the Committee had not yet completed the examination, and that he would have to wait a little while longer.

TRIED TO STAB POLICEMEN.

Arejino Had Out a Friend and Gill Had Beaten His Wife.

Both Were Overpowered After Desperate Struggles.

Rafael Arizono, a laborer, of 200 Mott street, was held in $1,000 bail in the Tombs Court this morning for felonious assault on Matthew Cronin, of 229 Mott street.

The two men were drinking together yesterday, and last night Arizono became ugly, drew a pocketknife and stabbed Cronin in the left cheek, making two deep gashes.

Policeman Flatley, of the Mulberry street station, attempted to arrest Arizono, who tried to stab him also. The policeman had a hard fight with the prisoner, who was crazed with drink. For the attempt to stab the policeman Justice Grady held Arizono in $300 bail.

Policeman John Moran, of the Oak street station, had a hard fight with Michael Gill, forty-four years old, of 92 South street, whom he arrested for assault on his wife. Gill was held in $1,000 bail.

Gill had unmercifully beaten his wife, who fled from the house for safety. She was in charge of the police station, and the policeman sent her upstairs to see if she could calm down. Gill again started in to beat her and chased her into the hallway with a butcher knife.

The two men were fighting in the hallway, and in the struggle that followed Gill was badly cut on the left arm. It took four men to get him into the station. He was held in $1,000 bail. His wife would not make a complaint.

SEAMAN LOOKED FOR FIGHT.

He Went to a Police Station for It, and Was Accommodated.

Henry Seaman, who lives on North Sixth street, Williamsburg, and is a night inspector in the Custom-House, was held in the Lee Avenue Court to be tried on charges of malicious mischief and intoxication.

Seaman has been enjoying a five days' vacation. Saturday night, he was arrested at the Broadway ferry, and it took three officers to convey him to the station. When arraigned in Court yesterday he was penitent, and so many people pleaded for him that Justice Gottling suspended sentence.

At 5 o'clock this morning Seaman was taken to the police station, where he had spent Saturday night, and violently abused the policemen. The police officers were called in to break the top of the steam radiator and howled for some one to come and fight with him.

His challenge was accepted, for an entire section came downstairs in various uniforms, and a fight ensued. A murder was being committed. Seaman was placed under arrest and hustled back to a cell.

THE VENETIA ASHORE.

Stock on Strona Island, Scotland—Due Here July 12.

LONDON, July 2.—The Hamburg-American line steamer, Venetia, Capt. Von Bussewitz, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

She is not leaking and is likely to float at the next high tide.

At the office of the Hamburg-American Packet Company in this city, this morning, it was said that the Venetia, which sailed from Christiansand, June 30, for New York, is ashore at Strona Island, off the northern coast of Scotland.

SHOT HERSELF IN THE HEAD.

The Wife of Ice-Dealer Pendleton Commits Suicide.

Two Previous Attempts to Poison Herself Had Failed.

Coroner Kane, of Brooklyn, was notified today of the suicide of Mrs. Elizabeth Pendleton, thirty-five years old, of 288 Hancock street, who shot herself in the right temple late last night and died almost instantly. This was her third attempt to take her life.

Mrs. Pendleton was the wife of Henry P. Pendleton, a wholesale ice dealer, and a daughter of W. Y. Wyckoff, of Port Jefferson, L. I.

Three years ago she was taken ill with a nervous disease, which developed into insanity. On the advice of Dr. Frank E. Wilson, she was removed to a sanitarium at Clifton Springs, Ontario County, N. Y. Under excellent care she recovered and returned home several months ago.

Shortly after rejoining her family she again fell into a state of mental derangement. In a nervous condition, it is said, she twice tried to poison herself. Mr. Pendleton gave her every attention, but nothing seemed to work any permanent good.

Mr. Pendleton's wife was very nervous, and at 10 o'clock last night a pistol shot was heard, and a few minutes later Mrs. Pendleton was found in her bedroom dead.

Some rattling sport should be seen at Sheepshead Bay to-day. The card heads no room for complaint, and a majority of the races are likely to produce close finishes. The June is the only fixture on the card, and a fair lot of two-year-olds is entered to see Havoc, The Commoner, Paladino, Midway, Gial and The Bluffer are a well-matched lot and should go well together.

The third race, at a mile and a furlong, has Don Alonso, Sport, Comanche, Candelabra, Stowaway and Herald carded. The handicaps at this track are made by a very few men, and this race seems no exception to the rule.

The three-year-olds in the fourth race ought to go well. Longdale, Major-General and Ed Kearney should finish close together.

Two-year-olds meet in the fifth race and Harry Hood looks to have a margin on the purse. Mr. Dwyer has evidently concluded that his $10,000 colt is not much more than a selling player. Second Attempt, Mosquito and Kimping Girl should go well.

The delay in the strike, which was expected to be a good class of horses, is entered. The track will be dry and hot. The entries and selections are as follows:

First Race—Handicap sweepstakes of $15 each, with $1,000 added, for three-year-olds and up. Weight. Fairly even.

1st. P. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
2d. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
3d. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
4th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
5th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
6th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
7th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
8th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
9th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
10th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115

Kingston's last race showed that he was getting good, and he should about with the opening dash. Liberator has an excellent chance for the place and even should not be worst than third.

The Cat Race—Began Yesterday, but Few Took Advantage of It.

The new two and one-half cent rate for Brooklyn Bridge tickets went into effect yesterday. The demand for them at the ticket-sellers' windows at either end of the bridge was not great.

Passengers evidently forgot that the rate was new. In fact, the sellers themselves were surprised. They had been instructed evidently to get three cents, unless a request for the cheaper rate was made.

If a man laid down a nickel he got a ticket for the bridge, and if he laid down a dime he got two tickets and a request for two was made. Two tickets and four cents were shored up.

A few people for the majority forgot about the new rule, bought the new tickets, and the majority of bridge travelers forgot that the rate was new.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

POINTS OUT THE RACES.

Big Fields the Order at the Sheepshead Track.

Kingston, Harry Reed and Major-General Look Good.

"EVENING WORLD" SELECTIONS.

First Race—Kingston, Liberator, Yemassee.

Second Race—The Bluffer, Havoc, The Commoner.

Third Race—Sport, Comanche, Candelabra.

Fourth Race—Major-General, Longdale, Ed Kearney.

Fifth Race—Harry Reed, Mosquito, Second Attempt.

Sixth Race—Figaro, Lizzie, Copyright.

Some rattling sport should be seen at Sheepshead Bay to-day. The card heads no room for complaint, and a majority of the races are likely to produce close finishes.

The June is the only fixture on the card, and a fair lot of two-year-olds is entered to see Havoc, The Commoner, Paladino, Midway, Gial and The Bluffer are a well-matched lot and should go well together.

The third race, at a mile and a furlong, has Don Alonso, Sport, Comanche, Candelabra, Stowaway and Herald carded. The handicaps at this track are made by a very few men, and this race seems no exception to the rule.

The three-year-olds in the fourth race ought to go well. Longdale, Major-General and Ed Kearney should finish close together.

Two-year-olds meet in the fifth race and Harry Hood looks to have a margin on the purse. Mr. Dwyer has evidently concluded that his $10,000 colt is not much more than a selling player.

Second Attempt, Mosquito and Kimping Girl should go well.

The delay in the strike, which was expected to be a good class of horses, is entered. The track will be dry and hot. The entries and selections are as follows:

First Race—Handicap sweepstakes of $15 each, with $1,000 added, for three-year-olds and up. Weight. Fairly even.

1st. P. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
2d. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
3d. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
4th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
5th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
6th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
7th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
8th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
9th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115
10th. J. J. Dwyer's Kingston. 115

Kingston's last race showed that he was getting good, and he should about with the opening dash. Liberator has an excellent chance for the place and even should not be worst than third.

The Cat Race—Began Yesterday, but Few Took Advantage of It.

The new two and one-half cent rate for Brooklyn Bridge tickets went into effect yesterday. The demand for them at the ticket-sellers' windows at either end of the bridge was not great.

Passengers evidently forgot that the rate was new. In fact, the sellers themselves were surprised. They had been instructed evidently to get three cents, unless a request for the cheaper rate was made.

If a man laid down a nickel he got a ticket for the bridge, and if he laid down a dime he got two tickets and a request for two was made. Two tickets and four cents were shored up.

A few people for the majority forgot about the new rule, bought the new tickets, and the majority of bridge travelers forgot that the rate was new.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

For a cent a day saved will be enough to pay for the new rule. In operation they will probably be more wary.

HALLECK MAY DIE.

Desperate Fight Over Cards—Three Men Held in $1,500 Each.

(Special to The Evening World.)

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 2.—A desperate fight over a game of cards occurred last night in the saloon of Hiram Decker, on Pine street, Elizabeth, in which Charles Halleck, a Polisher, twenty-five years old, was murdered.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and two others, James Cawell and Dominic Staton, were charged with the murder. Halleck was a well-known saloon-keeper and a popular figure in the neighborhood.

The saloon-keeper and